

LITERARY NOTES.

A new "Dictionary of Quotations" is on the press. It has been compiled by the editor of "Nuttall's Standard Dictionary," and is to be published by F. Warne & Co. The quotations come from ancient and modern English and French sources, and include proverbs, mottoes, maxims, proverbs, definitions, aphorisms and sayings of wise men in their bearing on life, literature, speculation, science, art, religion and morals.

Count Tolstoi's forthcoming work, "The Kingdom of God Within Us," is reported to be a passionate defense of his favorite doctrine, "Resist not evil." In this book the author gives a heart-rending description of the way in which so-called "justice" is administered to refractory peasants in Russia.

The lately published Life of Marie Antoinette, by Mme. de la Rochefer, contains much interesting matter derived from newly discovered documents. A translation of the book—which has been crowned by the French Academy—is to be brought out here immediately by Dodd, Mead & Co., in two octavo volumes, with twenty photogravure portraits. The work comes to remind the reader of the approaching one hundredth anniversary, on October 16, of the murder of the Queen.

SPEAKING OF "PREMIUM BOYS." We have had a number of these during the thirty-five years of our Pecker College. One of them has made a considerable and lasting reputation as U. S. Senator Judge in the past two years. He has been Lieutenant-Governor of the State, for many years a State Senator, and a well-known publicist, and in a letter just received from him he assures me that the prettiest title he hears is that of a "Packard Boy." And I have another letter from a prominent New-York business man who came to me a fourteen-year-old boy in 1894, and has never left me, for a moment. He is the clearest-headed and one of the most successful business men whom I have ever known—unswerving in integrity, uncompromising in principle, and invincible in his loyalty to the dear old school. Still another—the manager of one of the great New-York banks, and the best authority on banking in the country. He was, indeed, a "premium boy," as he is a premium man, and there is nothing too good for him to say of his alma mater. Not one of these men was a "premium boy," or a "smart"—all plodders, just plodders. But they "got them."

The Packard College will open for the year on Tuesday morning, Sept. 5, at 6 o'clock. It will be a day long to be remembered in the lives of a hundred young men. Be on hand promptly.
